Restaurante El Raso

El Raso is a Spanish restaurant, nicely fitted out and comfortable, and all the staff are friendly and efficient. And the food - oh, the food! It's magnificent for the price. Menu del Dia - The meal starts with bread and ali oli and tomato paste, followed by a salad. Then there's a choice of five starters and five mains. Paella figures on the starters list twice a week, along with a selection of soups and stews, plates of ham and cheese, stuffed peppers and interesting starters such as Eggs Flamenco and cauliflower with a cheese and tomato sauce. Main courses always include a fish dish - either grilled or in a fantastic El Raso sauce. Chicken is on the menu every day as well, along with various other meat and vegetable choices. And para postre - again, a good selection, including arroz con leche, fruit salad, flan and various 'tartas.'

Included in all this is a small beer, glass of wine or soft drink - all for the incredible price That's the Monday to Friday meal deal, and if you're thinking of going, I'd advise you to book, otherwise, you're likely to be turned away hungry

Value for money 101%

Chillies Indian Fusion Restaurant

I arrived at Chillies Tired, Thirsty and Hungry. The staff were very relaxed and friendly. My meal was excellent. The lamb was tender and the sauce was perfect. The price was very reasonable also, with good portions.
