

Happy Garden

Chinese Thai Restaurant

This Chinese Thai Restaurant is situated in a lovely large building on the edge of Quesada just next to Lo Pepin on what is known by the locals as The Lemon Tree Road. It offers some of the finest quality food in the area - an absolute must!

Happy Garden is very well set up for catering for large parties and special celebrations. There is even a dance floor area out in the garden section.

Do keep in mind that the menu is Asiatic rather than just Chinese. Mongolian meat skewers, meats Japanese sushi and sashimi to classic Chinese fare. They manage to offer lovely food, plus great service and nice views over the salt lakes at sunset Absolutely Beautiful Restaurant

The Happy Garden Menu

Upon being seated one is served up with Complimentary Prawn crackers plus an interesting sauce to go with them.

There is a very large menu to choose from, but most people on their first visit tend to go for the special menu which is extremely good value for money. All is based on a 4 course meal and drinks includes half bottle of wine each. At the end a sweet PLUS Tea or Coffee is offered (not like some venues one or the other) plus, of course, to finish off by Schnapps or a drink of your choice.

The food is delicious well cooked and served piping hot on hot plates. Service good and staff very pleasant. In all this is basically a Chinese Banquet and the food is gradually presented.

Nice view over the salt lakes at sunset.
